

About Us

Academus Education is a non-profit organisation dedicated to providing free educational services and resources for students who have not previously had access to the study of Classics and the Ancient World.

Our mission is to provide students with an introduction to the languages and cultures of Ancient Greece, Rome, and other ancient civilizations. Through our work, we aim to empower students with the confidence, knowledge and passion to pursue their own interests in the Ancient World.

We run free online summer schools, crash courses and digital events throughout the year. We also work to advocate for wider access to Classics and Ancient World studies for all students across every stage of education.

We are 100% volunteer-led and rely on donations to help make our operations possible. To find out how you can support Academus, please visit academuseducation.co.uk/donate
